WINEMAKING

HARVEST: Manual

WINEMAKING: In our oldest Tempranillo vineyards in Viñaspre, we find scattered Garnacha vines, which are selected to make this wine. Perfect destemming with a vibrating destemmer to protect the grape as if it were a manual process. Alcoholic fermentation in small-capacity tanks with constant punch-down. Aging in French oak barrels for 9-10 months.

TASTING NOTES

This is not a typical Garnacha; it has its own personality characteristic of Garnacha from RIOJA ALAVESA. Very soft color layer, with red tones. Surprising brightness and cleanliness. Aromas of cherry, red fruit provided by the Garnacha, and balsamic and dairy touches contributed by the French oak barrel. A fresh wine, with a good entry on the palate. An easy-to-drink wine.
